The San Francisco 49ers, oldest original major league professional football franchise West of the Mississippi, celebrated their Silver Anniversary in 1970 with a championship (NFC Western Division).

This year the club moves into a new playing site, Candlestick Park, and into a new quarter century with every intention of keeping the celebration going. It seems fitting.

When Anthony J. "Tony" Morabito, the club's founder, watched the first 49er team take the field in 1946, he had set in motion the first major league professional sports operation ever to originate in the State of California.

Tony, later joined by his younger brother, Victor, survived those early days, many of them tough, struggling days, to achieve a level of success with the 49ers which enabled sports fans in Northern California, in fact, the entire state, to enjoy what has become one of the national hotbeds of professional sport.

In the beginning, the 49ers were members of the All-America Football Conference. They joined the National Football League prior to the 1950 season.

Tony Morabito passed away during the 1957 season, to be succeeded by Vic Morabito and the club's chief executive officer. Upon Vic's death, in 1964, Louis G. Spadia, then general manager, became the club's top working executive. He was named president prior to the 1967 season.

The San Francisco 49ers are a limited partnership with the major interest being held by Mrs. Anthony J. Morabito and Mrs. Victor P. Morabito.

FORTY NINER PROSPECTUS — 1971

OFFENSE

Receivers: The presence of All-Pro Gene Washington alone would be enough to stamp this as a strong area of play for the 49ers. His 1,100 yards on 53 catches was the top yardage total by a receiver in the NFL. Add rugged Dick Witcher, the "tough catch" artist, and the tight end tandem of Bob Windsor and Ted Kwalick and it comes up a truly strong corps. Coach Nolan would like to have one more swift, deep threat to go with Washington, and that could come from either Jimmy Thomas, currently a running back, or rookie Vic Washington. Thomas worked at wide receiver a couple of games when Gene Washington was hurt last year. Vic Washington, drafted last year, now available after playing out his option in Canada, is considered such a good prospect that he will also be looked at as a possible running back or defensive back. He also returns kicks. Other rookies, from this year's draft, will be highly regarded Sam Dickerson, 3rd-round choice from USC, and Al Bresler, 6th-round choice from Auburn.

GENE WASHINGTON

Running Backs: Ken Willard and Doug Cunningham have been the regulars for the past two seasons (Willard has been a six-year starter) and they are a dependable tandem, both as running backs and receivers. There is quality depth, too, in the persons of Bill Tucker, Jimmy Thomas, John Isenbarger and Jim Strong. However, Thomas may shift to wide receiver, his college position, and the club will look to rookies for the "homerun" breakaway back it still seeks. Vic Washington is a possibility, as are 2nd-round choice Joe Orduna, from Nebraska, 4th-round choice Tony Harris, from Toledo, 10th-round choice Ron Cardo, Wisconsin State, and 13th-round choice John Bullock, of Purdue.

Quarterback: No reason to believe that John Brodie, pro football's MVP in 1970, won't have another outstanding season. At 36 and going into his 15th season, Brodie's fine-polished talent it at its zenith and he performs within a well-balanced team. Steve Spurrier, confined to a punter's role through most of the 1970 season, rates as a dependable backup man. Taxi man Buster O'Brien will be back and Joe Reed of Mississippi State was drafted in the 11th round.

Line: They're called "The Protectors," a well-deserved sobriquet since they set an NFL record in 1970 by allowing their quarterback to be "sacked" only eight times for the year. At center, in his 4th season, big Forrest Blue is already among the very best at his craft. Randy Beisler took over the starting job previously held by former Pro Bowler Elmer Collett to join 2-year starter Woody Peoples at guard. The two tackles are among the best around. All-NFC choice Cas Banaszek and Pro Bowl performer Len Rohde. Collett and big Bob Hoskins, a rookie last year, provide depth, however, the club drafted three offensive linemen in the first five rounds—guard Ernie Janet (2nd) of Washington, center Willie Parker (3rd) of North Texas State, and tackle Dean Shatnick (5th) of Kansas State.

DEFENSE

Line: Strong evidence that this is developing into a top-notch unit. Charlie Krueger and Roland Lakes, the regular tackles, are both experienced, quality performers, and ends Tommy Hart and Bill Belk are quick, young, rapidly improving men, but it is the backup depth that really makes the positive situation. Coach Nolan had a total of eight defensive linemen last year, and the four so-called backups—ends Cedrick Hardman and Stan Hindman, tackles Earl Edwards and Sam Silas—played as much as the starters. Hardman, going into his 2nd season, appears to be an eventual All-Pro, and Edwards could move into a starting job this year. Hindman came back from a severe knee injury last season, played very effectively in the latter part of the season, and the veteran Silas is a dedicated, experienced man who never fails to come through when called.

Linebackers: Another area of developing excellence. Dave Wilcox, entering his 8th year, was All-Pro in many quarters last year and selected to the Pro Bowl. He is the left-side backer. Frank Nunley (5th year) is an enthusiastic, positive-thinking middle backer and signal caller, and Skip Vanderbundt (3rd year) showed continued progress despite missing part of the year due to injury. That trio had seven of the club's 22 interceptions. Jim Sniadecki, also going into his 3rd year, filled in well for Vanderbundt when the latter was injured, saw enough action to improve his consistency. Veteran Ed Beard is a strong backup man for Nunley, as well as a vital cog in special teams operation.

Secondary: By season's end in 1970 this was one of the best units of its kind. Keys were the rapid progress of rookie Bruce Taylor, at the right corner, and the leadership of veteran Roosevelt Taylor from his free safety position. Rosey was voted the 49ers' Len Eshmont Award for leadership and inspiration when the year was over. The other members of the unit are unanimous All-Pro Jimmy Johnson, at left corner, and tough Mel Phillips, at strong safety. Backup men are veterans Al Randolph (6th year) and Johnny Fuller (4th year) and free agent Mike Simpson (2nd year). The 49ers drafted only one defensive back, but he was their No. 1—Tim Anderson of Ohio State. He can play either corner or safety.

Considered one of the best pass blockers in the game.

COLLEGE: Was a tight end for three seasons at Northwestern, All-Big 10 and played in the North-South game after his senior year. Earned three varsity letters and holds Northwestern's career record for pass receptions at 88. Earned one baseball letter at 1st base. ## JACK WHITE

General Manager

One of the most well-known and widely-respected sports administrators in the business. Jack White is beginning his fifth year as general manager for the 49ers.

White's appointment was made just prior to the 1967 season when Lou Spadia became club president.

White, who had been a parttime talent scout for the club for some 14 years, became a fulltime 49er in 1965, when he became director of scouting, a key position in the talent hunting area.

White's experience in professional sport has covered both baseball and football. He was a pro football player, and, later, an assistant coach with the old New York Yankee football team in the All-American Conference.

Still later, he joined the New York Yankee baseball organization and served in capacities which ranged from general manager of their Richmond farm club, to business and ticket manager for the parent club.

White and his family, wife Mary and children Susan and John, now live in Palo Alto.

LYNN O. WALDORF

Director of Personnel

A former president of the American Football Coaches Association and one of the most respected men in sports, Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf joined the 49er organization in 1957. Since then, he has built up a talent-scouting force second to none. His efforts have been responsible for many new faces on the San Francisco roster in the past years and the current crop of newcomers is rated among the finest in the club's history.

A tackle at Syracuse University in the early 1920's, he coached at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma State, Kansas State and Northwestern before taking over what he termed the "Sleeping Giant" at the University of California in 1947. Under his tutelage, the Golden Bears won three consecutive Pacific Coast Conference titles—1948-49-50—and represented the West in the annual Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena. His 10-year record at California was 66 wins, 32 losses and four ties.

Pappy was elected to the National Foundation Football Hall of Fame in 1965, one of the few coaches to achieve that honor.

One of the nation's top after-dinner speakers, Pappy is especially noted for his limitless supply of limericks. He and his wife, Louise, live in Berkeley. They have two daughters and five grandchildren.

49ERS 20, SAINTS 20

Kezar Stadium (39,446)

Gene Washington and John Brodie hooked up for 2 TD passes in the second half to give the 49ers a 20-13 lead over the Saints, as Brodie became only the fourth quarterback ever to pass for over 25,000 yards in a career. But former 49er quarterback Bill Kilmer entered the game at the outset of the fourth quarter and directed a well-executed drive to tie the game as he passed to another former 49er, Dave Parks, for the tying score. Playing in only the fourth quarter Kilmer completed 8 of 13 passes for 110 yards.

49ERS 19, BRONCOS 14 Kezar Stadium (39,515)

A brilliant 49er defense held the Broncos scoreless throughout the second half. They came up with three interceptions, the final one ending the game, as line-backer Skip Vanderbunt intercepted it in the end zone. Bruce Gossett kicked two more field goals for a total of four on the day, and rookie John Isenbarger took a pass in the flat and ran 61 yards for the only 49er TD.

49ERS 26, PACKERS 10 Kezar Stadium (59,335)

This game was the first sell-out for the 49ers since 1959, in Kezar Stadium. It was marked by one of the most exciting runs ever, as rookie cornerback Bruce Taylor returned an intercepted pass for 70 yards through broken field to set up the 49ers' first score. Place-kicker Bruce Gossett kicked four FGs and for the second time in as many weeks the 49er defense held the opposition scoreless in the second half.

49ERS 37, BEARS 16 Wrigley Field (45,607)

John Brodie, having one of the finest days in his career, completed 21 of 28 pass attempts. The 21st completion gave Brodie a career total of 2,000, thus becoming only the fourth QB ever to accomplish such a feat. He also completed three TDs, one covering 79 yards to WR Gene Washington.

Two interceptions gave the 49ers good field position for two more of the scores, but the best field position came on a Bruce Taylor punt return which covered 76 yards.

49ERS 30, OILERS 20 Astrodome (43,040)

John Brodie's first attempt to pass was good to Jimmy Thomas for a 54-yard TD. Brodie went on to complete three TD passes while completing 16 of 26 passes for 205 yards. Meanwhile rookie return specialist Bruce Taylor picked up 133 yards on 6 punt returns. Returns of 22 and 35 yards helped set up the final two 49er TDs in the fourth period. Doug Cunningham led the 49er rushers with 92 yards on 18 carries.

49ERS 7, LIONS 28 Tiger Stadium (56,232)

The Lions rebounded from three straight losses and soundly defeated the 49ers in Tiger Stadium. Key interceptions in the end zones by Lem Barney and Mike Weger managed to kill two 49er drives. The Lions were led by Mel Farr, who ran for 117 yards on 16 carries. Despite 20 mph winds, 49er QB John Brodie managed to complete 18 of 25 passes.

49ERS 13, RAMS 30 Kezar Stadium (59,602)

Once again the 49er offensive line managed to keep the big rush of the Rams' "Fearsome Foursome" off QB John Brodie but that wasn't enough to keep the fired-up Rams from making a fine second-half comeback. Although Brodie had another fine afternoon, 18 completions for 36 attempts and 160 yards, the 49ers never could get the good field position to work from.

49ERS 24, FALCONS 20 Kezar Stadium (41,387)

The passing combination of John Brodie to Gene Washington once again sparked the offense. Brodie connected with Washington midway through the second quarter for a 35-yard TD. But two pass interference calls set up the go ahead TD for SF, along with a Bruce Gossett field goal gave the 49ers a slim 3-point margin. The 49er defense, led by Earl Edwards, Bill Belk and Stan Hindman, dropped Berry five times in the fourth quarter.

49ERS 38, SAINTS 27 Tulane Stadium (61,940)

John Brodie and Gene Washington combined for 3 TDs, while Brodie also ran for another, as the 49ers came from behind to defeat the New Orleans Saints, 38-27. Rookie cornerback Bruce Taylor ran a missed field goal attempt back 92 yards for the 49ers' other score. Brodie on the day completed 15 of 22 attempts for 227 yards, the seventh time this season any quarterback has done that. Washington ended the day with 5 receptions for 131 yards and three TDs.

49ERS 38, RAIDERS 7

Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum (54,535)

The 49ers cinched their first divisional title ever at the expense of their cross-bay rivals, the Oakland Raiders. The 49ers were able to force the Raiders into nine turnovers, four fumbles and five pass interceptions (one of which Jim Johnson ran back 36 yards for a TD). TE Ted Kwalick played his finest game as a pro, as he caught a 26-yard pass from John Brodie. Brodie, while only completing 7 of 21 pass attempts, did manage to throw three TDs. Bill Tucker caught one for 28 yards and Gene Washington another for 34 yards.

POST-SEASON GAME SUMMARIES

NFC PLAYOFF GAME

49ERS 17, VIKINGS 14

Metropolitan Stadium (46,050)

The San Francisco 49ers shocked the pro football world when they defeated the Minnesota Vikings in Minnesota in nine-degree weather before a capacity crowd. The 49ers capitalized on two pass interceptions and two fumble recoveries to hold a 17-7 fourth-quarter lead. All-Pro QB John Brodie threw a 24-yard TD pass to Dick Wither and the game could have gone either way until later in the fourth quarter when "rookie of the year" Bruce Taylor returned a Viking punt to the Viking 14-yard line. Five plays later Brodie sneaked over from the one, to put the icing on top of the already icy field. The victory gave the 49ers their first playoff victory and a right to host their first ever championship game . . . the last ever to be played at Kezar Stadium.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

49ERS 10, COWBOYS 17

Kezar Stadium (59,625)

All hopes of the San Francisco 49ers of making the Super Bowl ended as the Dallas Cowboys' defense held the 49ers pretty much in check all afternoon. It all happened in the third quarter when three breaks led to two Dallas TDs before the 49ers counter-marched to one. Through the rest of the game, Dallas ran and ran, holding the ball—avoiding mistakes. The Dallas defense, blitzing much more than usual, kept Brodie off balance most of the day. Brodie did manage to engineer a 73-yard drive through the near-perfect Dallas defense and capped it with a 26-yard pass to Dick Wither for the first touchdown scored on the Cowboys in six games. But in a long fourth quarter the 49ers could not work anything more as Dallas sealed all the cracks to preserve the win.

THE FORTY NINER STORY — 1946-1970

From a modest beginning in 1946, the San Francisco 49ers have grown into one of the most flourishing franchises in professional sports.

A major league football franchise in the City by the Golden Gate had long been the cherished dream of Anthony J. (Tony) Morabito, a native son and 1931 graduate of the University of Santa Clara. Failing to win recognition from the National League, Tony turned to the All-America Conference, which began operations in 1946 with the late Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, as the guiding genius.

Although the AAC went under after four years of intense competition with the NFL, it proved Morabito's point that San Francisco was a major league city. Sports fans of the entire Bay Area took the 49ers to their hearts and attendance grew by the proverbial leaps and bounds.

The club's success was predicated on Tony's oft-repeated slogan of "Go first class or not at all," and his early organization was built around such honored names as Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw, head coach; and Frankie Albert, Norm Standlee, Alyn Beals, Johnny Strzykowski and Len Eshmont—all of whom were already top drawing cards in collegiate and pro football.

The 49ers were the perennial runners-up to the mighty Cleveland Browns throughout the history of the AAC and, masterminded by Shaw on the bench and Albert on the field, became noted nationally for daring, colorful football. The AAC ended its short but exciting life when the Browns defeated the 49ers, 21-7, in the championship game of 1949, San Francisco, Cleveland and Baltimore became members of the NFL.

In their 21st year as a member of the National Football League, the 49ers battled to their first title, the Western Division championship in the NFC. They went on to win a playoff game against Minnesota, 17-14, before losing in the NFC championship game, 17-10, to the Dallas Cowboys.

In 1970, the year of their greatest accomplishment, they remained what they had always been, an exciting, colorful football team manned by many of the game's greatest players.

49ER STORY (Con't)

Here are the highlights, beginning with the first year in the NFL:

1950—The 49ers fell flat on their faces in their NFL debut, winning only three games. A rival coach described them as "not big enough or tough enough."

1951—In an amazing reversal of form sparked by a great rookie group, the 49ers were in the race to the final day and finished only a half game off the top. Led by Hardy Brown and his famed "shoulder tackle," the club had one of the toughest defensive units in the league. Y. A. Tittle and Billy Wilson began their great careers.

1952—After a blazing start, the 49ers slumped in midseason. It can't be written off as unsuccessful for Hugh (The King) McElhenny came off the University of Washington campus to become "Player of the Year" and the most feared runner in football.

1953—The 49ers had their best NFL showing, 9-3, normally good enough for a championship. But Detroit was 10-2. Two of the San Francisco losses came with Tittle benched because of a severe facial injury. The three defeats were by a total of nine points. Joe (Jet) Perry became one of the few players in pro history to gain more than 1,000 yards in a single season. Gordy Soltau was the league's top scorer for the second straight year.

1954—Early momentum was broken by injuries to key players such as Tittle, McElhenny, and Joe Perry. Perry gained more than 1,000 yards again, the first man ever to achieve this distinction.

1955—With McElhenny hobbled by a foot injury, the 49ers had their second worst season in history under Norman P. Strader who succeeded Shaw as head coach.

1956—In Albert's first year at the helm, the 49ers were bogged in last place at midseason with a 1-6 record. They won four and tied one of their last five games for a brilliant stretch drive.

1957—This undoubtedly was the most emotional and dramatic season in 49er history. Every game was a "Cliffhanger" and the "Alley-Oop" pass from Tittle to rookie R. C. Owens became a household byword. Emotions reached a peak when the beloved Tony Morabito collapsed and died of a heart attack at the Chicago Bears game on Oct. 27. Trailing, 17-7, the 49ers fought back for their greatest victory of all time, 21-17. The magnificent Wilson caught a pass from Tittle for the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter. Tied with Detroit at 8-4 when the season ended, the 49ers lost the playoff game, 31-27, although they held a 27-7 lead in the third quarter.

1958—An up-and-down season which finished on a high note when Green Bay and Baltimore were defeated in the last two games. The 6-6 record, however, was blackened by the 33-3 and 56-7 lags at the hands of Los Angeles and Albert resigned at the end of the year.

1959—With Hickey in charge, the 49ers were in contention all the way and John Brodie came into his own at quarterback when he led the team to a 21-20 upset of Cleveland. J. D. Smith, converted from a defensive back, became the second 49er to accumulate more than 1,000 yards rushing.

1960—Hickey saved a seemingly hopeless season when he installed his Shotgun attack and the club captured four of the last five games to finish in a tie for second place. Third-string quarterback Bobby Waters threw the passes that upset Baltimore, 30-22, in the final two minutes.

1961—The success of Hickey's Shotgun amazed the football world, especially the 49-0 victory over Detroit. Quarterback Bill Kilmer, a passing-running rookie from UCLA, was made to order for the new offense. When the Shotgun was stopped, Brodie took over again in the T and had the finest season in 49er q.b. annals. Indicating the evenness of NFL competition, the 49ers were playing for a second-place tie, plus a trip to the Runner-up Bowl at Miami, or a fifth-place position on the last day of the season. The Colts again won by three points, but 1961 must remain as one of the most exciting and interesting years in 49er history.

1962—For the first time since 1956, the 49ers finished the frustrating season with more defeats than victories. In so doing, the honored adage of "it's easier to win at home than on the road," proved false—the 49ers won only one of seven at home, but captured five of seven road contests.

1963—Injuries in multitude to key personnel started the 49ers off to a disappointing 2-12 league season. One of the victories, however, was a smashing 20-14 upset of ultimate World Champion Chicago, the only league defeat suffered by the Bears all season.

1964—Club co-founder Victor P. Morabito died of a heart attack in May. Injury to key personnel prevented the 49ers from gaining enough offensive momentum to forge a winning season, although they proved to be one of the toughest defensive clubs in the league. Outstanding rookie performances by end Dave Parks, quarterback George Mira and linebacker Dave Wilcox also took some of the sting from the 4-10 overall record.

1965—Outstanding offensive performances enabled the 49ers to jump from the bottom to fourth place in the Western Division as the team led the NFL in both scoring and total offense. John Brodie was the most productive passer in the NFL, Dave Parks led the league in receiving and rookie Ken Willard and veteran John David Crow, acquired in an off-season trade, led a strong ground game. The over-all record was 7-6-1 and the season-opening 52-24 beating of the Chicago Bears marked the largest number of points ever scored by the 49ers in NFL play.

1966—After a somewhat slow start, the 49ers got in gear just before midway in the season and became one of only two teams to beat the eventual World Champion Green Bay Packers. After that, they rolled to a respectable 6-6-2 record and were in the battle for second place in the Western Division until the final league game. Guard John Thomas and end Dave Parks were All Pro, and they joined guard Howard Mudd, center Bruce Bosley, fullback Ken Willard and linebacker Dave Wilcox in the Pro Bowl.

1967—An auspicious start (they were 5-1) disintegrated into disappointment for the 49ers as injuries took a heavy toll and a six-game losing streak took them out of the running. Quarterback George Mira came off the bench to lead the squad to two season-ending victories and salvage a 7-7 record. There were bright spots, however, as, with John Brodie in fine form, the 49ers were the only team to beat the power-laden Rams in a league game, guard Howard Mudd and linebacker Dave Wilcox were named to All-Pro teams, and Mudd and center Bruce Bosley played in the Pro Bowl for the second straight time.

1968—Under new coach Dick Nolan the 49ers posted a 7-6-1 record as the season turned on key wins over New York, 26-10, and Green Bay, 27-20. Brilliant performances by QB John Brodie, receiver Cliff McNeil and running back Ken Willard led a prolific offense, while tackle Charlie Krueger, linebacker Dave Wilcox and defensive back Kermit Alexander, sparked a revitalized defense. McNeil and guard Howard Mudd were chosen All-NFL, and joined by Wilcox, Willard and Alexander in the Pro Bowl.

1969—Beted by injuries that nearly decimated the defensive unit, the 49ers struggled through the early part of the season, went five games before beating Baltimore, the first time they had done that in 13 previous games. It got a little better after that (final record was 4-8-2) and five players—Jim Johnson, Dave Wilcox, Elmer Collett, Ken Willard and rookie Gene Washington—were selected for the Pro Bowl. Johnson was also All-Pro and winner of the Eshmont Award.

1970—This was the greatest year since the club became a member of the NFL in 1950. The 10-3-1 record was the best as an NFL club, the Western Division (NFC) championship was the first in the NFL. In a season of superlatives, John Brodie was the NFL's "Player of the Year," Bruce Taylor was NFC "Rookie of the Year," Coach Dick Nolan was a near-unanimous choice as NFC "Coach of the Year." Brodie, receiver Gene Washington, linebacker Dave Wilcox and cornerback Jimmy Johnson were All-Pro and joined by tackle Len Rohde in being selected for the Pro Bowl.
